LEGHORN, May 16.

HEY write from Rogliano, in the island of Corsica, that 91 of the prisoners that were taken in the island of Capraja are arrived there. Those among them who are Genoese, or of other nations, are treated according to the rules of war in all civilized countries; but those who prove to be Corsicans are sent to prison, and treated as rebels and traitors to their country.

MITTAU, May 16. The Duke and the Nobility acceded yesterday to the confederacy formed by the Dissidents of Lithuania. In the act of accession it is declared, in express terms, that this step shall not alter in any respect the relation or connexion in which the dutchies of Courland and Semigallia stand, with regard to the Republick of Poland; nor the rights of the Roman Catholic religion; that the Marshal of the confederation shall not exercise any jurisdiction over these two dutchies; that he shall not impose any contribution on them; and lastly, that this accession shall not be alleged in example, when hereafter other confederations may be in agitation.

On the 3d of this month a great concourse of people assembled in the great square of this city, with what design is not yet known; but on the approach of some detachments of troops, they dispersed. GENOA, May 16. On the 13th instant the Government embarked 400 regular troops on board some armed vessels, with orders to join those under the command of the Senator Pinelli, in order to enable him to make a second attempt to land on the island of Capraja. It is affirmed that the Senate is resolved to use all possible means to recover that island; and as, on the other hand, the Corsicans will do their endeavours to maintain themselves there, the war will probably be as brisk as before.

FLORENCE, May 30. The first and second convoy of Jesuits from Spain having been refused to land at Civita Vecchia, they sailed from thence towards Corsica; where the Republick of Genoa had consented that a certain number of them should be distributed in the places that are garrisoned by the French troops; but by the last letters received here from Genoa we hear that M. de Marbeuf, the commander in chief of those troops in that island, had declared that he could not permit the Jesuits to land there, and that the Republick had likewise made the same declaration in regard to their landing in any part of that state on the continent; and that notice thereof had been despatched by a vessel, to meet those convoys at sea.

LONDON, June 4.

The Court of St. James's this day, on account of its being the anniversary of his Majesty's birthday, was extremely numerous and brilliant; when many of the Nobility of both sexes, particularly several Ladies of the highest rank, appeared in the manufactures of this kingdom.

Extract of a letter from Berlin, May 30.

"The 27th instant we received the melancholy news that Prince Frederick Henry Charles, brother of the Prince of Prussia, died the day before at Protzen; where, being on his march with his regiment, he was seized with the smallpox and the purples. This Prince, who cannot be sufficiently regretted, was 19 years of age, and about 5 months."

Yesterday there was a very full House of Peers, and their Lordships sat late.

JUNE 20. We are informed that his Majesty will go to the House of Peers on Thursday next, and after signing such bills as are ready will prorogue the Parliament.

The following, among other bills, lie ready for the Royal assent, viz.

The bill to continue several laws relating to the running of uncultivated goods; to prevent the running of goods, and the danger of infection thereby; to the granting liberty to carry rice from Carolina and Georgia, in America, directly to any part of Europe southward of Cape Finisterre; and to the prohibiting the exportation of books reprinted abroad, and first written and printed in Great Britain.

The bill for the free importation of cochineal and indigo; and for allowing the bounties on the exportation of corn and malt, declared or made for exportation, and barley steeped, and entered to be made into malt for exportation, before a limited time.

We hear that the insinuation which was lately propagated, that the Right Hon. Mr. Conway was to resign as Secretary of State, and get the first vacant regiment, is entirely without foundation, that Right Hon. Gentleman's conduct, since his coming into the Administration, having given such universal satisfaction that it is the opinion of the most sensible politicians he will be continued until he himself chooses to deprive the publick of a Minister whose patriotism and steadiness hath been equalled by few, and surpassed by none.

The Rev. Mr. George Whitefield is arrived in town, from his late tour in Wales.

The Right Hon. the House of Peers did not break up until past ten o'clock on Thursday night; and yesterday there was again a very full House, and expected to sit late.

August 24. The English papers brought by Capt. Jefferies contain nothing new or interesting relative to America, and all we can collect from private letters is that the bill for stopping the legislative authority in this province, until we comply with the billeting act, had passed the House of Commons; that the Americans were permitted to import the produce of the Straits without calling at England to enter; that there was no probability of obtaining a paper currency this session; that a Board of Customs was settled for America; and that it was supposed the Parliament would break up about the first of July.

Wednesday last Captain George Tucker arrived here from Turk Island, in 17 days. He says that many teachers have lately arrived there from Bermuda, and that the place looks fair for being, in a short time, very considerable on account of trade; that Governor Seymour has appointed a Council, and the inhabitants have chose an Assembly, by virtue of an order from England; and that several French sloops have lately been there, but could not dispose of their cargoes, there being but very few purchasers. Salt very scarce.

The DONALD, Captain ANDREW, in eight weeks from Glasgow, is arrived in James river. From a paper of July 7th we have collected the following articles, viz.

A manufactory for velvets, after the Genoese manner, is to be established at Liverpool, under the direction of an Italian artist.

JULY 2. This day his Majesty went to the House of Peers, attended by the Duke of Ancaster, and the Lord in waiting, and signed the bills which lay ready for the Royal assent; after which his Majesty put an end to the sessions, with the following gracious speech from the throne:

"My Lords, and Gentlemen,

"The advanced season of the year, joined to the consideration of the inconvenience you must all have felt from so long an absence from your several counties, calls upon me to put an end to this present session of Parliament, which I cannot do without returning you my thanks for your diligent application to the publick business, and the proofs you have given of your affection for me, for my family, and for my government; and although, from the nature and extensiveness of the several objects under your consideration, it could not be expected that all the great commercial interests should be completely adjusted and regulated in the course of this session, yet I am persuaded that by the progress you have made a solid foundation is left for securing the most considerable and essential benefits to this nation.

"As no material alteration has happened in the state of foreign affairs since your first meeting, I have nothing to communicate to you on that subject. The fixed objects of all my measures are to preserve the peace, and at the same time to assert and maintain the honour of my Crown, and the just rights of my subjects.

"Gentlemen of the House of Commons,

"I thank you for the necessary supplies which you have so cheerfully granted for the publick service, and my particular acknowledgements are due to you for the provision you have enabled me to make for the more honourable support and maintenance of my family.

"My Lords, and Gentlemen,

"The great attention which you have shown to the particular purpose for which I called you so early together, and the very wholesome laws passed for relieving my subjects from the immediate distress which the great scarcity of corn threatened to bring upon them, gave me the most sensible pleasure. I rely upon you for the exertion of your utmost endeavours to convince my people that no care has been wanting to procure for them every relief which has been possible, and that their grateful sense of provisions, so wisely made for their present happiness and lasting prosperity, cannot be so fully expressed as by a strict observance of that order and regularity which are equally necessary to the security of all good government, as well as to their own real welfare."

Then the Lord Chancellor, by his Majesty's command, said:

"My Lords, and Gentlemen,

"It is his Majesty's Royal will and pleasure that this Parliament be prorogued to Monday the 31st of August next, to be then here held; and this Parliament is accordingly prorogued to Monday the 31st day of August next."

We hear that on Sunday next their Royal and Serene Highnesses the Prince and Princess of Brunswick will set out on their return to Germany.

We hear the Duke of York intends to take Brussels in his way to Spain, in order to see the grand processions on account of the recovery of the Empress Queen.

Yesterday, being the first of July, was paid down, at Mrs. Rich's house in Covent Garden, the sum of 60,000 l. for the purchase of the Theatre Royal in Covent Garden; and at the same time were executed the deeds of conveyance of the patents, theatre, scenes, clothes, &c. to Mess. Colman, Harris, Rutherford, and Powell.

Extract of a letter from Brussels, June 27.

"An edict of the Empress Queen has just made its appearance here, prohibiting the admission into this country of any of the Jesuits expelled from Spain, or exiled from France; it matters not whether they are subjects by birth of her Imperial Majesty, or whether or not they wear the habit of their order."

JULY 3. They write from Paris that the Court of Versailles had just sent off important despatches to Count de Marboeuf, Commandant of the French auxiliary troops in Corsica, in which it was said that General had orders to put a stop to the further conquests of Paoli in the island.

We are credibly informed that an eminent publican in the city, who is now in very good health, and only 35 years of age, hath lately bespoke a coffin from a basket maker in Bennet street, St. James's. It is now almost finished, and is a very great curiosity. It is made of willow rods of various colours, and ornamented with death heads, &c. It is judged that it will bring so much company to the owner's house that he will make a fortune by it; perhaps it was with this political view that he ordered it to be made.

EDINBURGH, JULY 7. Last Sunday the Rev. Mr. Occum, the Indian, preached in the Tolbooth church in the forenoon, and in the Orphan hospital park in the evening.

GOSPORT, Sept. 7, 1767.

HANOVER county, Sept. 1, 1767.

WHEREAS most obscene advertisements have, in my absence, been publicly delivered and posted about in this county, dated the 28th of August last, under my name, I hereby advise and forewarn all persons to be particularly careful of ever proceeding in the like manner again, as nothing shall screen them from the most rigorous proceedings at law; but if they are the performances of any person or persons related to a neighbouring family (which I greatly suspect) it only corroborates the opinion that, for many reasons, I have lately entertained of them. Whoever will discover the person or persons concerned in writing the above mentioned advertisements, shall receive FIVE POUNDS reward. I take this opportunity of returning my sincere thanks to those Gentlemen who have really studied to promote my interest.

LEIGHTON WOOD, Jun.

NEW KENT, Sept. 10, 1767.

MY bad state of health obliging me to leave the colony, I request the favour of all persons indebted to the store kept by me in this county, or to that in Williamsburg, either by bond or open account, to make immediate payment, that I may be enabled to settle my affairs before my departure. As there has been so long indulgence given, I flatter myself that due regard will be paid to this advertisement, as it would be very much against my inclination to be under the necessity of commencing suits, which I unavoidably must do if proper payments are not made to me between this and the ensuing October court.

The store in this county, and that in Williamsburg, will be continued as usual; and having lately imported a choice assortment of goods suitable for the season, all persons who may please to favour me with their custom may depend upon being furnished on the best terms, for ready money, or short credit.

PURDIE & DIXON.

YORK Town, September 2, 1767.

AS I purpose leaving the colony next spring, I once more give this notice to those who are indebted to me that, if their balances are not discharged by the 20th of next month, no further indulgence will be given. I will sell or lease for a term of years the house wherein I now live, situated on the main street in this town, with two lots adjoining, on which are all necessary houses, with a large garden; the whole paved in.

The goods I have in the store, several house servants, horses, and household furniture, will be sold privately, to any persons who may have occasion, until Monday the 2d of November next, when the remainder will be sold off at publick vendue, and credit allowed the purchasers, for all sums above forty shillings, until the 20th of April next, bond and security being given.

I have also a tract of land, late in Lunenburg, but now in Mecklenburg county, within a few miles of the court-house, containing 1068 acres, which I would sell to any one on very good terms; and if not sold before the above date, will likewise be put up at vendue.

NICHOLAS DICKSON.

THE inconvenience of collecting small sums from persons living at a great distance from this place and from each other, as well as the necessity I am under of paying ready money for most of the materials I use, obliges me to take this method of requesting all those who are indebted to me for STAYS to make speedy payment, and to acquaint those whose accounts have been standing above a year that, unless they are discharged on or before the ensuing October court, I shall be constrained to put them into the hands of proper attorneys. As I continue the business of staymaking as usual, I embrace this opportunity of informing those who live at a distance, and may please to favour me with their future custom, that I shall expect the money along with their orders, or that it may be lodged in the hands of some person in town, to be paid on the delivery of the stays, in which case they may depend on having them speedily executed, in the best manner, and newest fashion.

THOMAS MOORE.

WILLIAM, August 25, 1767.

MARCH the 21st, 1765, the subscriber bought a tract of land, lying in the county of Essex, and parish of South Farnham, from Thomas Grefome and John Merrit, for a valuable consideration, containing 503 acres, to which deed there are four witnesses, two of which have been out of the colony for a considerable time, which prevents the said deed being fully proved; the 18th of May last it was proved in Essex court, by the other two witnesses now here. Under these circumstances, I am advised to take this method to forewarn all persons from making a purchase of the aforesaid land from either Thomas Grefome or John Merrit, without the approbation of

ARCHIBALD RITCHIE.

RUN AWAY from the subscriber, in Talbot county, Maryland, on the 12th of July last, a servant man named JOHN KNOWLES, though since he left this place he has changed his name, and calls himself HURLEY, a blacksmith by trade, but now passes for a sailor, or a waterman. He is about 5 feet 5 or 6 inches high, an Irishman born, has a pretty fresh complexion, and is marked with the smallpox. Had on when he went away two blue jackets, one without sleeves, a pair of buckskin breeches dyed black, about half worn, and a pair of black and white worked ribbed stockings. He has black hair, commonly tied behind; and when he went off he had on his right hand a very sore finger, which I think is not so firmly cured but that it may be discovered at this time. Whoever takes up and secures the said servant, so as the owner may have him again, shall have a reward of THREE POUNDS; and if brought home, reasonable charges paid by

WILLIAM HAMILTON, & Co.

I FIND myself under the disagreeable necessity of cautioning the publick of a certain Thomas Harrison, a brother of mine, a perpetual sot; who has imposed on several of my friends, by borrowing money in my name.
He came into the country last fall, or rather was sent by his friends to get quit of a plague. After I found what sort of man he was, I was determined to return the compliment; and accordingly took his passage last spring, but when he got to Norfolk he spent his money. After this he came up to Cabin Point, and applied to a friend of mine for a letter of credit on a Gentleman of Norfolk, by whom he was re-supplied with cash, and a passage taken for him; but when the vessel was to sail he was not to be found, nor appeared to the Gentleman while a sailing remained. Then he requested more; but being justly refused, he spent his clothes. At last he borrowed a horse, pretending to come and see me. He was seen at Blandford about ten days ago with a horse, as I am informed; for seen him I have not since spring last. Where he now is,
I know not; but as this is a season that abounds with cider and brandy, and a country in which strangers meet with a general and kind welcome, I imagine he is not far from Petersburg.
If any person will be kind enough to bring the horse to me (which is a forrel with a blaze face, bob tail, about 14 hands high) that I may return him again to the owner, shall have 40s. for his trouble. As the misfortune to have such a brother is sufficiently great of itself, I hope the publick will not think me responsible for his actions.

WILLIAM HARRISON.

W. STARK.

On the same day will be sold about 300 acres of LAND, be made, with little trouble, a very fine fishing place, which would produce 20 or 30l. annual profit. This place may justly vie with most in the colony for its pleasant and healthy situation. Fifteen months credit will be given, if required.

chase may know the terms by applying to me, in King William county.

Tf

BERNARD MOORE.

FREDERICKSBURG, August 23, 1767.

AFTER nine years experience, I am convinced a Virginia estate interferes too much with my profession to admit of attendance enough, without doing injustice to those who depend on the latter; and without due attention to the first, its losses will very much abridge the profits of the last. For these reasons I intend to sell the following LANDS and SLAVES, at the times and on the terms hereafter mentioned, viz.

4875 acres of land, being part of 6500 contained in one tract on Shenando river, in the county of Frederick, in Virginia. It is sufficient to recommend this land to say that it contains more than a moderate proportion of low ground. The sale to be on the premises the first day of December next, if fair, otherwise next fair day, before when it will be laid off in lots for the convenience of the buyers. One half of the purchase money to be paid by the 10th of April next, the other half by the 10th of March 1769. Any person inclinable to view the land may be shown it by Mr. Edward Snigars, who lives adjoining. Five per cent. discount for ready money will be allowed on the first payment, and twelve and a half per cent. on the second.

Also to be sold, at private sale, one other tract on Four Mile run, about 5 miles from the town of Alexandria, in the county of Fairfax, containing 1166 acres; part is very good, and part mean; but as it is level, it is capable of being improved to advantage. There are several acres very fit for meadow, and a stream within it which is very constant, and sufficient even for a tub mill.

Also one other tract on Potomac river, containing 1059 acres, about 5 miles from the town of Colchester, in the said county of Fairfax. I never saw this land, so cannot vouch for its quality, but I presume it is like the neighbouring lands which are occupied; and, as there are two tenants on this, I suppose they think it is worth leasing. The tenants are at will, so no encumbrance.

Likewise to be sold, at public sale, on the 16th of next December, at my mill plantation on Little river, in the county of Loudoun, two miles from Captain William West's ordinary, 40 SLAVES, 28 workers, the rest fixable children; they are likely slaves, and the young ones remarkably so, having been well fed and clothed from their birth. Also all the stocks of horses, black cattle, hogs, and sheep; corn, wheat, rye, oats, hay, and fodder (of which there will be a large quantity) and all the plantation utensils belonging to two quarters. The black cattle are remarkably fine, some of the hogs are blooded, and a great number of the hogs will then be fattened for pork. The slaves will be sold on the same terms with the Frederick lands, and the stocks, &c. for three months credit only, with a discount of two and a half per cent. for ready money.

At the same time will be let, for lives or years, the said mill plantation, with 400 or more acres of land adjoining (to include 352 acres lately purchased of Mr. Craven Peyton) whereon are many valuable improvements; among which is a very constant and well accustomed tub mill, with a bolt to go by water, and floors, convenient for merchant work. It is so well situated as to have earned 120 barrels of Indian corn a year, besides a large quantity of wheat and rye. Also a double pitched framed barn, with three floors for storing threshed grain, well shingled, and underpinned with stone, and is about three years old. Likewise a large framed house, lately built by Mr. Peyton for his dwelling house; it is not finished, but is well shingled, and weather-boarded with feather-edge planks, and has a good cellar walled with stone. There is now on this plantation about 30 acres of meadow, well set with timothy, and 150 more may be made with very little expense. But it is to be observed that, as a tract to which this proposed tenement adjoins is thought to contain a great quantity of iron ore, if a furnace or other works should be built thereon, then the lease for this tenement to determine on the first day of November next, after the workmen or labourers shall begin to erect the works, or dig the ore.

Also for sale the said adjoining tract, together with the tenement last mentioned; the whole containing 17,200 acres, on easy terms, and very long credit for greatest part of the money. It is thought to be very fit for iron works, and to contain an inexhaustible quantity of iron ore, and wood and water enough for two furnaces, and several single forges. There are two streams within this tract; the one about 5 miles below the other, is always the same, and is fed by a spring which rises at the top of a mountain, about half a mile from where the furnace would be fixed. It is more than sufficient for a furnace and merchant mill. The upper stream is called Little river, and for nine months in the year would supply four tub mills. I speak of dry years, for until lately it never failed supplying my tub mill, which consumes a prodigious quantity of water; and, at the driest season, this mill grinds about two hours every morning. The stream is so land locked that it is the opinion of an iron master, who accompanied me to the place in July 1765 (a dry year) that it will support several single forges very near each other; and with reservoirs, which may be made with very little expense, it might be made perpetual. At the time he attended me the season had been very dry for a considerable time, and my overseer informed us that the water was nearly at the lowest; and then, from an experiment, we found the fountain yielded as much as could be discharged through a trough 24 inches square. Many thousand acres of this land are extremely fine, and the whole well covered with wood, and affords an excellent range for stock. Its situation is very good as to inland trade for iron, and the land carriage is 45 miles to Alexandria, 32 to Colchester, and 36 to the town of Dumfries, on Quantico creek; the lower stream is 5 miles nearer to Colchester and Dumfries, to which the roads are equal to the best natural road in America, and the neighbourhood is well settled with Pennsylvania and Jersey farmers. I have neither time nor skill to make such assays as are necessary to discover the quantity or quality of the ore, but if any persons incline to make experiments they are at full liberty to do so, and my overseer, now on the premises, will show all the blossoms on the land; and if such persons become purchasers or partners, they shall be amply allowed for their skill and labour in such inquiries.

An unexceptionable title will be made, with general warranty, and bond and security will be expected of the purchasers. Besides, the lands will not be conveyed until the purchase money is paid; and, as a collateral security, I shall insist on a bill of sale for the slaves.

JAMES MERCER.

To be SOLD, on terms to be agreed upon at the day of sale, at Mr. GEORGE NEAVILL's ordinary, near the premises, the 15th day of September next (pursuant to an act of Assembly empowering the executors of Col. Charles Carter, late of King George, to make sale of such part of his unentailed lands as they shall find necessary for the payment of his debts)

FOURTEEN thousand acres of fine high and low grounds, lying in the counties of Prince William and Fauquier, on Broad Run and Kettle Run, to be laid off in lots, or otherwise, as may be agreed on, the executors being at all times ready to confer with any persons inclinable to bargain for any of the said lands before the day of sale. There is a great number of remarkable fine streams for grist mills running through the said tract, which lie within 25 or 30 miles of public navigation, on Potomack and Rappahannock rivers.

A S C H E M E,

For disposing of, by way of LOTTERY, the LAND and TENEMENTS under mentioned, being the entire towns of Rocky Ridge and Shockoe, lying at the Falls of James river, and the land thereunto adjoining.

THE advantageous situation of this estate is too well known to require a particular description, though it may be necessary to inform the publick that the obstructions through the Falls, and in other parts of the river above, will shortly be removed, and the river made navigable to the said towns: The navigation will thereby be extended, and made both safe and easy for upwards of two hundred miles above the said Falls, and a communication opened to the western frontier of the middle colonies, whereby there will not be more than sixty or seventy miles portage from James river to the Ohio; so that the immense treasure of that valuable country must necessarily be brought to market to one or other of the abovesaid towns, which will occasionally raise the rents, and enhance the value, of the land and tenements under mentioned, beyond the powers of conception.

A double forge, a mill, with two acres and a half of land adjoining, the use of the landing, the canal, with ten feet on each side, and 2000 acres of back land, the further part of which is not more than five miles from the forge,
